

Meeting - 8 June 2010

theoretical needs are either phenomenal or object driven the reason a science dies is because there are no questions

Begin

Discuss the development and transition to screens (including urban screens) how to justify the discussion of the screen: other academic authors, non-academic authors, or statistics

Theories

double-logic of remediation manovich's key point is that the old media forms are reconfigured as inputs to new media as well as outputs one could theorize the screen according to remediation or via manovich what are the input forms/output forms of the screen do our cases confirm, disconfirm, or disrupt these theories?
